The final evening of trading for the Oasis Hotel, Harrismith, was Friday 2nd September 2022. Russell and Judy, who have operated the hotel for 23 years, were greeted by many of their long time patrons who came for a last drink and to wish them well in their retirement. Very sad to see this establishment closing.

A pleasant games afternoon was held last Friday the 9th September at the Yealering CWA room.

Many thanks to Josie and Mavis from Corrigin for bringing their mahjong sets and endeavouring to teach us how to play.

Scrabble was also played on another table of "gamers".

Afternoon tea followed with several others coming after school for a chat and a cuppa.

The next community activity at the CWA will be a basket making craft day on the 14th October. See advert for workshop as numbers are limited.
Afternoon tea will be served from 2.30pm and everyone is welcome.

Spring adds new life and new beauty to all that is.

Dear Parents and Carers,

With only 3 weeks to go until end of term, I find myself reflecting on how fast this term has gone by.

Last week, I attended a 3 day conference with other leaders from around the state. I find myself always filled with pride when I talk about Wickepin PS, the staff and students in particular. It is a wonderful reminder how lucky I am to lead a school of dedicated staff and respectful students.

MAGPIE NESTING SEASON

Magpies breed between August and October each year. Although magpies are quite alarming when they swoop please remember to stay calm – the clap of their wings and clacking of their bill is usually just a bluff. Like a dog, magpies seem to sense fear. The following steps can be followed to avoid or reduce the impact of a swooping magpie:

- Never deliberately provoke a magpie.
- Avoid areas where magpies are known to swoop.
- Locate the bird and keep watching it when entering its territory. If you are being swooped don't crouch or stop –continue on your way quickly but don't run.
- If you are riding a bike make sure you wear a helmet, and dismount and walk through nesting magpie territory.
- Try wearing a hat and sunglasses or carry an umbrella for protection, and
- Remember the magpies are just trying to protect their young.

...Veggie Variety

Now is a great time to start a Veggie Patch. To boost the success of your crops, take the time to improve the soil before you plant with plenty of organic matter, like compost, aged manures or blood and bone. In most areas you can start sowing beans, basil, carrots, chillies, cucumbers, eggplants, lettuce, pumpkin, radish, sweetcorn, tomatoes and zucchinis – just to name a few. If you are prone to frosts, wait a little longer to avoid frost damage to tender young leaves.

Seedlings or Seeds: You can get a head start on the planting season by using seedlings. They're easy to grow and, as they are young established plants, may have a greater chance of success in the garden. But if you are not in a rush then seeds are great too, as the plants will be grown in the one spot and you will avoid the risk of loss through the shock of transplanting.

Pests: Caterpillars, whitefly, slugs, aphids – just to name a few - find veggies and herbs irresistible. Keep them at bay with organic insecticide sprays, spraying at first sight and repeat as necessary.

Weeds compete with plants for valuable moisture and nutrients, and are a harbour for unwanted insects and bugs. Make sure your area has been bared of weeds before you start planting, and pull weeds regularly throughout the growing season.

Support tall or climbing plants like cherry tomatoes and beans can be supported using a tepee trellis, or the like, made with bamboo stakes. Tie string along it at intervals for extra support.

Supercharge the growth and productivity of your veggie patch by regular feeding with a liquid fertilizer.

Keep your household in greens by growing your own lettuce. Try:

Cos – This lettuce forms a tight head of sturdy, long and crisp leaves. Pick the outer leaves while the head grows.

Oak Leaf – A loose-leaf variety made up of heavily lobed leaves, like an oak leaf. Harvest the outer leaves often.

Iceberg – Ever popular, its round head has layers of crisp, mildly flavoured leaves with good crunch factor. Harvest the whole lettuce.

Buttercrunch – Much loved for its mild butter-flavoured leaves and smooth velvety texture. Great as wraps or in sandwiches.

\**After applying fertiliser around edible plants, delay harvesting for a few days and rinse well before eating or cooking. If you are using products to deal with pests, diseases or weeds, or when handling compost or manure, follow any instructions carefully, and always wear gloves and any other suitable protective equipment.*

\**Store all garden chemicals and products out of reach of children and pets.*

ADULT FICTION THE LAST HOURS IN PARIS - RUTH DRUART

Paris 1944. Elise Chevalier knows what it is to love . . . and to hate. Her fiancé, a young French soldier, was killed by the German army. Living amongst the enemy, Elise must keep her rage buried deep within. Sebastian Kleinhaus no longer recognizes himself. Forced to join the Third Reich and wear a uniform he despises, he longs for a way out. For someone, anyone, to be his salvation. Brittany 1963. Reaching for the suitcase under her mother's bed, eighteen-year-old Josephine Chevalier uncovers a secret that shakes her to the core. Determined to find the truth, she travels to Paris where she learns the story of a forbidden love as a city fought for its freedom. Of the last stolen hours before the first light of liberation. And of a betrayal so deep that it would irrevocably change the course of two young lives for ever.

ADULT FICTION THE PEOPLE ON PLATFORM 5 - CLARE POOLEY

Nobody ever talks to strangers on the train. It's a rule. But what would happen if they did? Every day at 8:05, Iona Iverson boards the train to go to work. Every day, she sees the same people and makes assumptions about them, even giving them nicknames. But they never speak. Then, one morning, Smart-but-Sexist Surbiton chokes on a grape right in front of Iona. Probably-a-Psychopath-New-Malden steps up to help and saves his life, and this one event sparks a chain reaction. With nothing in common but their commute, an eclectic group of people learn that their assumptions about each other don't match reality. But when Iona's life begins to fall apart, will her new friends be there when she needs them most?

ADULT LARGE PRINT THE OTHER FAMILY - WENDY CORRSI STAUB

It's the perfect home for the perfect family: pretty Nora Howell, her handsome husband, their two teenage daughters, and lovable dog. As California transplants making a fresh start in Brooklyn, they expected to live in a shoebox, but the brownstone has a huge kitchen, lots of light, and a backyard. The catch: its previous residents were victims of a grisly triple homicide that remains unsolved. Soon, peculiar things begin happening. The pug is nosing around like a bloodhound. Nora unearths a long-hidden rusty box in the flowerbed. Oldest daughter Stacey, obsessed with the family murdered in their house, pokes into the bloody past and becomes convinced that a stranger is watching the house. Watching them. She's right. But one of the Howells will recognize his face. Because one of them has a secret that will blindside the others with a truth that lies shockingly close to home, and to this one's terrifying history.

DVD DEATH ON THE NILE

Belgian sleuth Hercule Poirot's Egyptian vacation aboard a glamorous river steamer turns into a terrifying search for a murderer when a picture-perfect couple's idyllic honeymoon is tragically cut short. Set against an epic landscape of sweeping desert vistas and the majestic Giza pyramids, this tale of unbridled passion and incapacitating jealousy features a cosmopolitan group of impeccably dressed travelers, and enough wicked twists and turns to leave audiences guessing until the final, shocking denouement.

Celebrating 50 years of protecting consumers

With Consumer Protection recently celebrating its 50th anniversary in Western Australia, we have been reminded that while many things have changed over the last five decades, there is also so much that has remained the same.

Back in the early 1970s, second-hand cars accounted for 40 per cent of the complaints we handled, while travel agents, tenancy and product safety were the other big issues affecting WA consumers.

Now, 50 years later, we have handled 250,000 consumer and tenancy complaints and achieved $69 million in redress for those impacted. Many of the same issues are still relevant today and so too is the way we handle them. Community education, complaints management, public namings and prosecutions remain a consistent way we alert consumers to issues while simultaneously holding to account those who do the wrong thing.

Even though much remains unchanged, the last 50 years have yielded incredible advancements in the way business is conducted.

The speed of electronic communications may have made it easier to do business, but it has also created new opportunities for scammers and dodgy traders seeking to take advantage. Scams and other forms of misleading and deceiving conduct are rapidly evolving issues that will require sophisticated and innovative ways to combat them.

Just as the business landscape changed, so too did the laws that governed it. Up until 11 years ago, there were 17 different national, state and territory laws covering consumer issues in Australia, before they were all replaced on 1 January 2011 with the Australian Consumer Law (ACL). In what remains the most significant change to consumer laws to date, the ACL means that no matter where they are in this country, consumers could know their rights and traders understood their obligations.

Heralding a new era of consumer protection in Australia, the ACL was backed up with greater penalties and enforcement powers than had existed previously. This afforded State and Federal agencies a wider scope to take action for breaches of consumer laws, provide more compensation options for unlawful conduct, and introduce product safety standards.
